LITTLE LOCALS

Every circus has a side show.

Ed. Patenat left this morning for La Parra.

Frank Rabb went up to Santa Maria this morning.

We were one day ahead on the steamer Morgan yesterday.

Don't start to the old postoffice when you go after your mail.

Consistepoy, thou art a jewel! the sparkle of which few men possess.

All the societies of the city have their flags at half mast as it of All Souls' day.

Today for Clark tomorrow for Hogg is the way some of our citizens stand.

The school were all dismissed this afternoon, in commemoration of All souls' day.

Will the Hogg men of Cameron county point out to us one single undemocratic plank in the Clark platform?

As THE HERALD editor is busy moving to day, and the paper is out early to allow the employees to visit the cemetery, we hope our readers will excuse our city of news items.

The Hoggites of Cameron county claim a majority of 2000 for their favorite.

The Hogg meeting last night at the city hall was not a very enthusiastic one. There were only about seven men present.

WANTED:—A young man of energy and intelligence as local rustler. Good salary. Apply in person at this office.

We are requested to state that examinations of teachers will take place on the third Friday and following Saturday of this month.

The New Postoffice.

Calling at the new postoffice yesterday, we found our genial and accommodating postmaster, Mr. J. W. Hoyt, snugly ensconced in his new quarters and looking as much at home as if he had always been accustomed to attending to Uncle Sam's mail in such a handsome, and spacious office. He was busily engaged in assigning the various boxes as they were asked for by various citizens. Assistant A. Ashheim kindly allowed us to enter and take a peep at the mysterious inner part of the office. The room is a very large and handsome chamber, with every modern convenience. The postoffice is located on the lower floor in the west wing of the building extending from front to back. The furniture is very handsome and the whole would do credit to any city. There are three grades, or classes of boxes, all numbered, the smallest being on the left side at the top, those next in size, in front at the top, and the largest sized occupying the two lower rows on both sides. Mr. Ashheim also showed us the splendid vault where Uncle Sam's stamps, money order blanks, etc., are kept safely locked. Space and time prevent a more detailed description of the office at present.

A Cemetery of Giants.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 28.—A rich archaeological find has been unearthed two miles west of this city in a gravel pit on Sugar Creek. Twenty-five skeletons of brooding naggin statue have been exhumed and the unburying is still going on. The last skeleton taken out measured 7 feet in length. The skull had a perfect set of teeth with an enamel beautiful as polished marble. The bones were perfect in every detail, though they must have been entombed for centuries. The entire absence of vegetable matter in the soil and the perfect drainage would account for the preservation of the bony structure.

Hon. Ben Terrell.

Yoakum, Tex., Oct. 27.—Hon. Ben Terrell, Populist candidate for congress from this, the Eleventh district spoke to a large and attentive audience in the open air in this city last evening. His speech created some impression, being very forcible and argumentative, but this section will give our "William Henry" an overwhelming majority.
